We believe in doing things differently

Born out of a desire to create a range of luxury and sustainable closet essentials, we believe in doing things differently. The antithesis to fast fashion, we are conscious, curated, considered.

Designed in Ireland, we work with expert craftspeople in Europe to create each piece by hand.

We only choose suppliers that can meet our strict code of ethics and we have 100% traceability in supply line to ensure all materials are farmed and sourced responsibly.

We use recycled materials where possible and we choose to use 100% organic cotton, 100% silk, recycled lambswool and cashmere.

When you're done, we'll make another one.

Although our clothes are designed to last, if you decide you're finished with your product you can return it to us. We'll ensure the raw materials get another life and you'll get 10% off a future purchase. We'll also offset your shipment by planting a tree.

WORKING TOWARDS A FULLY CIRCULAR BUSINESS

A circular approach

Being carbon neutral is not enough. We're committed to contributing more to our planet than the resources we take from it. That's why, we're working towards becoming a fully circular business. We're not there yet, but we have big plans to reach our goal.

Starting small. Growing organically.

We don't mass produce any of our products. We work with our suppliers to manufacture our products in small batches to avoid wastage. We will add more products soon and we have big plans for the future. If there's something you'd like to see from us please get in touch and let us know.
